

New Website Informs New York City Slip And Fall Victims Of Their Legal Rights Following An Accident

Website launched by NY lawyer David Resnick includes information on slip and fall accidents and common injuries.

New York, NY (PRWEB) June 17, 2010 -- New York City residents and visitors injured in slip and fall accidents now have a new resource for obtaining information -- a website launched by the New York law firm of David Resnick & Associates.

The website, located at www.nyc-slipandfall.com, helps slip and fall accident victims determine whether they have grounds for legal action and describes the steps to take if they do.

"Slip and fall accidents can happen anywhere and now there's a source of information the injured can access for answers to their questions," says David Resnick, the principal partner in David Resnick & Associates, P.C. of New York, NY.

Resnick & Associates has successfully represented many injury victims who have suffered physical, emotional, and financial loss because of the negligence of others. The website will help those injured in such accidents assess whether a property owner's negligence contributed to their fall, Resnick says.

Features of the website include information under these headings:

- About slip and fall lawsuits;
- Do you have a slip and fall case?;
- Common injuries;
- Slip and fall frequently asked questions;
- Top 10 property owner responsibilities;
- Filing a lawsuit.

The website also describes New York City slip and fall cases successfully handled by David Resnick & Associates, including several settled for more than $200,000.

"A bad fall can cause a lot of hurt, loss of income and change a person's life," Resnick says. "When it happens because a property owner ignored a hazard, the injured should be given prompt and full compensation. This website explains how the legal process protects accident victims."
